

A Weekend for Growth

We invite all women to join us for an affirming weekend retreat where the goals are to gain a better understanding of our life's journey, to determine where we are on that journey now and to move toward to where we would like to be.

On this retreat, we will also learn to better understand ourselves and those around us, mend broken relationships and let go and let God.

Tools for Better Living

You will have an opportunity to look at yourself with fresh eyes through reflection, sharing, prayer, journaling and honest self-appraisal.

You will also be able to explore your current life path through team-led activities that include witness talks, workshops, ritual actions, and holy leisure offerings--all intended to foster growth in self-knowledge, self-acceptance as well as improving our relationships.

RELAX ~ REFRESH ~ RECONNECT

Where do you find serenity?

The Gift of Women's Journey A Journey Towards Growth

Where is Jesus in your life today? How can we move closer to Him and be true to ourselves and our loved ones? How can we welcome God into our lives with a deeper conviction? How do we repair the damage of broken relationships and free ourselves from things that cause pain in our lives? How can we calm our fears and anxieties over those things for which we have no control? How can we celebrate the joyfulness and honor the giftedness in our lives?

"We who are blocked and frustrated by pain despite a clear, conscious commitment to God and Christ need a way to [surrender] the "control" to God in order to be freed, find reconciliation and serenity, and get on with growing spiritually in Christ."
